

Figure S5. Heterozygous sexuals have higher over-winter survival than homozygous sexuals. This result is consistent in both experimental years. Estimated marginal means are shown; bars show 95% confidence intervals.

